Pippa Small is an ethical jewelry brand, creating talismans for modern life. Pippa Small approaches jewelry design differently, working with Fairtrade, Fair Mined materials, generating secure livelihoods in areas of conflict around the world. From Pippa's core collection in India, Pippa's support of hand panning gold in Colombia, to community efforts with Turquoise Mountain in Afghanistan, Myanmar and Levant, Pippa works to encourage and sustain these communities. By wearing Pippa Small jewelry, you help us create sustainable jobs in areas impacted by conflict and climate change, support cleaner, fairer mining practices, and ensure the continuation of traditional craft techniques the world over.

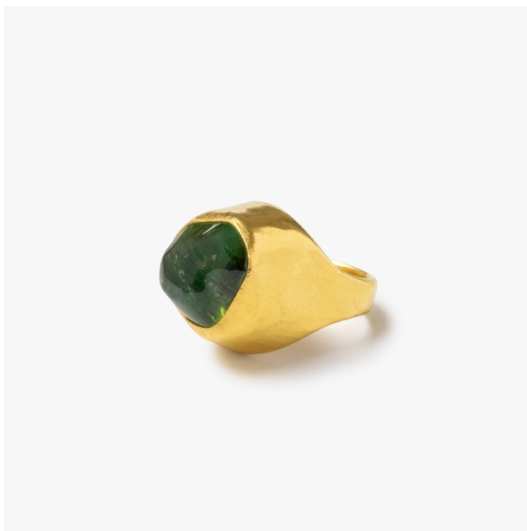

All of Pippa's designs are handmade by highly skilled artisans. Pippa Small believes it's a privilege to own something made by hand; these pieces forge a bridge between one person and another, crossing language barriers and continents, bringing attention and awareness to what is happening elsewhere. At the heart of every Pippa Small design is an elemental connection to earth, humanity and place. Each piece carries the materials of the landscape, the techniques of the community, and the hand of the maker. These objects will be handed down, with each person who wears them overlaying new memories and narratives. Each one a piece of a continually growing story.

No. 62 is a curated selection of significant jewelry designers of our time. Nestled within Maya Frodeman Gallery, a contemporary art gallery in downtown Jackson Hole, Wyoming, No. 62 showcases award-winning designers from around the globe, such as Nicholas Varney, Judy Geib, Silvia Furmanovich, Bibi van der Velden and Fernando Jorge, amongst others.

Elevating the preconceptions of fine jewelry, No. 62 is a boutique that allows the viewer to discover new modes of personal expression. An experience all its own, No. 62 ensures each guest who visits the space leaves with an enduring sense of how art in the form of jewelry can enrich our day-to-day lives. It is this power that has inspired No. 62 to build a home for artists where their work is shown in an elevated environment aimed at connecting you with something deeper.
